

Yorkshire textile mills

Yorkshire is a historic country of Northern England with a rich industrial heritage. Pioneer on the Industrial revolution, it hosts a large number of industrial buildings originally focused on textile production. Nowadays, the restructuring of textile industry has put at risk much of them.

The aim of this website is to divulgate the Yorkshire industrial heritage and to collect information about it. More info.

